Australians are being encouraged to put on their walking shoes this October as HeartKids' annual Two Feet & A Heartbeat walks bring thousands of heart kids, heart adults, families, friends and supporters together across Australia.

Every day in Australia, eight babies are born a heart condition, and many more will acquire a heart condition during childhood. Around 250,000 Australians are living with childhood-onset heart disease (CoHD), with an estimated one million Australians, including parents, carers and siblings, impacted.

Two Feet & A Heartbeat bring together children and adults living with CoHD, walking side-by side with their families, friends, and supporters. Milestones are celebrated, remembering those whose lives were far too short, sharing heart stories, raising awareness of childhood-onset heart disease and raising vital funds to allow Heartkids to support heart families across Australia.

Funds raised through Two Feet & A Heartbeat help HeartKids provide information, support via Heartkids teams on wards in hospitals, connection and advocacy across every stage of the unique CoHD journey.

The Melbourne event is on Sunday 25th October at 9am at Princes Park.
